Isolation & Quarantine Procedures and Resources for Students Off-Grounds

For those starting their isolation period, we are sorry that you have COVID-19 – particularly if you are not feeling well. For those starting quarantine, we are grateful to you for doing your part to keep yourself and others safe and healthy. Our community depends on it.

Please save this message because it includes links and phone numbers that will be helpful throughout the isolation or quarantine period.

General questions should be directed to the COVID Information Center: covidinformation@virginia.edu or 833-454-6902. Email inquiries typically receive a faster response than telephone.

Medical Assistance

Isolation:
You do not need to contact Student Health and Wellness for clearance at the end of isolation and you do not need a test to end isolation. Please follow university posted guidelines for when and how to discontinue isolation.

You should consider medical consultation in any of the following situations. You may do so by scheduling an appointment online through the Healthy Hoos patient portal (select “COVID or Flu Symptoms- Phone Call with A Nurse”):
- You have a serious underlying health condition
- You experience any moderate to severe symptoms (lightheadedness or dizziness, fever > 3 days, chest pain, shortness of breath, significant worsening of symptoms) or you have questions about your symptoms.
- You are a School of Medicine or School of Nursing student and need to obtain a furlough from clinical duties (please schedule “COVID Questions, Medical or Nursing school- Phone call with a Nurse”).

Quarantine:
You do not need to contact Student Health and Wellness for clearance at the end of quarantine. Please follow university posted guidelines for when and how to test during your quarantine period. Asymptomatic testing after an exposure and symptomatic testing should be scheduled at Student Health and Wellness.

Well-being and Mental Health
Isolation or quarantine can be a difficult experience, so it is important to be proactive about addressing well-being. This webpage is updated to reflect resources available to UVA students to support your social, emotional, and mental health. You also are encouraged to stay in good contact with family and friends through telephone, email, and various visual media to remain connected.

In addition, Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) is available to provide remote support through telehealth counseling and psychiatry appointments. On-call crisis counselors are also available 24 hours/day, 7 days/week if you feel you need to talk with someone right away. To access any of CAPS services, call 434-243-5150. You can also access TimelyCare, a free online, confidential mental health tool available to UVA students 24 hours/day, 7 days a week. Visit the CAPS website for more information mental health resources available to you.

Isolation or Quarantine Space
Students living off-Grounds should return home if safe to do so or plan to isolate or quarantine in their living accommodations off-Grounds if the space is suitable. Guidance for how long to isolate or quarantine is available through Student Health & Wellness.

Isolation: If you test positive for COVID-19, you are expected to isolate for the time period that you might be infectious. To isolate yourself, you should stay in your own room and use your own bathroom, without using shared living spaces, for the duration of your isolation period. If you are unable to do this, you should consider a hotel or returning home. If you need further guidance on how to properly isolate, please review CDC resources.

Quarantine: If you are a close contact of someone with COVID-19, your plan of action will depend on your vaccination/booster status. Please visit this Student Health & Wellness for guidance. If the guidelines direct you to quarantine you should stay in your own room and use your own bathroom, minimizing time in shared living spaces for the duration of your quarantine period. If you need further guidance on how to properly quarantine, please review CDC resources.

Food Support & Financial Assistance
You will be responsible for arranging your own meals to be delivered to you in your off-Grounds location for the duration of your quarantine or isolation. You might consider enlisting the assistance of friends or family to deliver groceries or meals to you outside of your door (remember, no personal contact). You may also want to research and leverage a variety of food/meal delivery services, including GrubHub (https://www.grubhub.com) and DoorDash (https://www.doordash.com/en-US). If you have concerns about resources for food or other needs, the University may have emergency hardship funds available depending on a student’s particular financial situation. To explore options, please visit the Student Financial Services website or email: emergencyfunding@virginia.edu.

Academic Considerations
You should contact your instructors directly regarding academic considerations while in isolation or quarantine. If needed, your school academic/association dean can provide assistance.
Support for other Hoos
If you tested positive for COVID-19 and think that you may have been in close contact with another student while you were contagious, you are encouraged to let them know. If students are a close contact with someone with COVID-19 and are vaccinated and boosted or vaccinated and not yet eligible for a booster, they do not need to quarantine but should always wear a mask for 5 days. Unvaccinated individuals should quarantine for 5 days utilizing their personal plan. If they have questions about whether they should quarantine, they can call the University COVID Call Center at 833-454-6902.

End of Quarantine or Isolation:
Please follow current CDC guidelines for ending isolation or quarantine.

Life After COVID-19
If you are leaving isolation after a COVID-19 diagnosis, you can find information about life after COVID here. In addition, you are still responsible for following all University, Charlottesville, and state public health guidelines.
